

YOU ARE ENTERING A CATTLE GRAZING AREA

Grazers, like cattle, are an important tool in maintaining the ecological health of our grasslands and reducing fire risks.

When you encounter cattle on the trail:

- Give cattle distance. If cattle are blocking the trail, approach them slowly, speak normally, and allow them to move away. Never attempt to touch or pet cattle.
- Avoid calves. Do not get between young calves and mother cows.
- Keep your dog on a leash. Protect yourself, your pets, and cattle by not allowing your dog to chase or harass cattle.
- Respect fences. Close pedestrian gates behind you.
